Abstract

This paper reviews the existence of the adābi wa ijtimā'i pattern in the exegesis of al-Munīr and Rawāiḥ al-Bayān by using primary and secondary data which are processed analytically to obtain the right data according to the theme discussed. The results of the analysis of these themes show that the interpretation of the verses of the Qur'an in the commentaries of Al-Munīr and Rawāiḥ al-Bayān are always accompanied by adābi wa ijtimā'i patterns, especially at the end of the interpretation of the verses. The adābi wa ijtimā'i style occupies an important position in the interpretation of verses, so that this pattern is always included in the interpretation of verses. So that in the two books of commentary, this style seems to be the conclusion of the interpretation of the verses being interpreted. In addition, the existence of this pattern in the commentary of Al-Munīr and Rawāiḥ al-Bayān plays a role in unlocking the secret of the law's syariat in a verse that is oriented towards wisdom and its benefits, especially in social interaction.

Keywords: Adābi wa ijtimā'i, Tafsir Al-Munīr, Tafsir Rawāiḥ al-Bayān

Introduction

The development of Islamic thought and the complexity of the problems that arise, especially in the middle era has sprung up a variety of styles of interpretation. Efforts in interpreting the Qur'an with the thought of reason then experienced development by moving more broadly and more deeply influenced by the subjectivity of the mufasir in interpreting a verse.¹

The specialty of the Qur'an which has become a complete and perfect guide to life. However, due to its universal and profound nature, the Qur'an requires in-depth interpretation so that its meaning can be widely and accurately understood by the people. Therefore, interpreters need to be careful in understanding the Qur'an which can provide a comprehensive view of how important it is to follow the instructions of the Qur'an in everyday life. This is where the role of the Mufassir becomes very important.² One of the emerging styles of tafsir is the adābi wa ijtimā'i style.

The mufasir who first introduced the adabi wa ijtimā'i interpretation style in an effort to reveal the contents and content of the Qur'an in accordance with the needs of the times to provide a response to problems developing in society were Muḥammad Abduh and his student, Muḥammad Rasyīd Riḍa through their tafsir work, namely Tafsīr al-Manār. Furthermore, this was followed by several other Muslim pilgrims in a number of Islamic countries.³

Adābi wa ijtimā'i is a sentence that comes from two syllables, namely adabi and ijtima'i. Linguistically, adabi means literature which is part of the study of Arabic grammar, such as nahwu, sharaf, luqah, and balaghah. Thus, adabi is related to the beauty of the language used by an interpreter. Meanwhile, the meaning of ijtimā'i is social. These two words then became the essence of 'urfīyyah among mufasir and have their own meaning which refers to a characteristic in the interpretation of the Qur'an.⁴

The meaning of the term adābi wa ijtimā'i in the study of tafsir, as explained by al-Farmawī is an interpretation of the Qur'an seen from the beauty of its editorial, then compiling the explanation in a beautiful editorial by highlighting aspects of the guidance of the Qur'an 'an for social life and connecting the meaning of these verses with laws in society and development in the world without using scientific language that is difficult to understand.⁵

According to Muḥammad Ḥusain al-Zahābī, adābi wa ijtimā'i contains the meaning of an interpretation of the Qur'an by starting first by showing existing reality, in accordance with the laws that apply in society. accuracy of stylistic expressions of language used in a verse. After that, continue by arranging the intended meanings in a beautiful way. Then the meaning is explored in more depth so that the application of the meaning of these verses can be realized.⁶

The existence of this type of interpretation will increasingly become evidence that the verses of the Qur'an are a guide for humanity in all situations and conditions to provide solutions to problems that are occurring in the midst of social life. So, solutions to all problems that occur in life can be found in the verses of the Quran.⁷

From this explanation it can be concluded that the adābi wa ijtimā'i style is a style of interpretation that focuses on the beauty of the style of the language structure of the Qur'an and takes the meaning of the verse based on the structure of the language style and applies this meaning to social life. everyday life to be a solution to social problems.

Apart from that, there are still many of his works which contain the discipline of Islamic jurisprudence.¹³

A Glance at the Book of Tafsir Al-Munīr

Tafsir al-Munir with the full name al-Tafsīr al-Munīr (Fī al-'Aqīdah wa Al-Syar'ah wa Al-Manhaj) is the work of Wahbah al-Zuhailī who tried comparing classical exegesis and contemporary exegesis in studying the verses of al- Koran. Tafsir al-Munīr is one of Wahbah al-Zuhailī's works in the field of interpretation which is heavily influenced by his understanding in the field of fiqh or in its interpretation is always associated with fiqh al-ḥayh or fiqh al-ahkām.¹⁴

Wahbah al-Zuhailī before writing the book on the interpretation of al-Munīr, he first studied and wrote a lot of books related to jurisprudence and jurisprudence suggestions.¹⁵ Therefore, his scientific background, which he had studied a lot before, greatly influenced the direction of his interpretation of the verses of the Koran, so that his interpretive work, namely the book of tafsir al-Munīr, had a more fiqh style.

Tafsir al-Munīr has a unique systematic and is different from classical tafsir. The tafsir consists of 16 volumes, each volume consisting of two juz' which can include several surahs. The first volume consists of juz 1 and 2 which includes surahs al-Fatihah and al-Baqarah. Meanwhile, volume 15 consists of juz 29 and 30 which includes several letters in both juz. In general, when interpreting a surah in this commentary, an explanation begins as an introduction to the interpretation of the letter. This introduction may include a description of the identification and naming of letters. Apart from that, it also explains the reasons for naming letters and their priority.¹⁶

In the interpretation of Al-Munīr, one of the steps is to group the verses based on certain themes and topics. Grouping is carried out based on the meaning content of the verses. For example, in interpreting Surah al-Baqarah, grouping verses 1 to 5 into one topic, namely regarding the nature of believers and the response to those who are devout. Meanwhile, verses 6 and 7 are grouped into one group of exegesis on the topic of the nature of the disbelievers.¹⁷

This grouping of verses based on meaning relationships is found in almost all letters and verses of the Al-Qur'an. After that, interpretation is carried out using several steps which include explanation of qira'ah, i'rab, lughah, asbab al-nuzūl, explanation munsabah verse, a more in-depth explanation of the interpretation, and the meaning of the verse which is connected to the laws of everyday life.¹⁸

These interpretive steps make al-Munir's interpretation more complete and can explore a very deep and broad meaning in the interpretation of a verse, especially in verses that have jurisprudential legal content in them. Apart from that, the relationship between jurisprudence and jurisprudence which is connected in everyday life, provides further understanding of the philosophical content of the application of law in the verses of the Qur'an for the benefit of human life.

A Glance at the Book of Tafsir Rawiḥ Al-Bayn

The book of tafsir Rawiḥ al-Bayn with the full name Rawiḥ al-Bayn (Tafsīr Ayat Al-Aḥkm min Al-Qur'an) is this book of tafsir which is based on fiqh and is a book with a neutral style of jurisprudence, that is, it does not side with one particular school of jurisprudence which consists of four schools of thought. This book is a book of exegesis which is specialized in discussing verses of the Koran containing legal issues in them and using various references to books of interpretation, both classical exegesis and modern exegesis which have the strongest validity.²³

This book of interpretation is presented using a very straightforward language style. The method of presentation in the book is very detailed and includes various arguments used by jurisprudence experts in full. Apart from that, in this book there is an explanation regarding the wisdom of enacting a law. The interpretation of the legal verses in this book, of course, is not adjusted to the order of discussion found in Islamic jurisprudence books in general. However, the discussion is discussed in accordance with the order of the verses in the Koran, namely in accordance with the order of the 'Usmnī mushaf.²⁴

The discussion of a verse containing law in this interpretation is always connected to other verses which also have the same theme as the verse being discussed, so that the discussion feels more complete. The sequence of methods for discussing verses in the book begins with vocabulary, global interpretation of verses, the reason for the revelation of verses, munsabah verses, qiraah, i'rab, sharia law or fiqh verses, and the wisdom of enshrining the law in a verse.²⁵

The Role of Adābi wa ijtīmā'i Style in Tafsir Al-Munīr and Rawih Al-Bayn

The role of the Adābi wa ijtīmā'i Tafsir style in Tafsir Al-Munīr

Tafsir al-Munīr is a book of interpretation that has a dominant style of fiqh, but in this book there is a role of adābi wa ijtīmā'i style which cannot be separated in the interpretation of the verses of the Qur'an contained in the tafsir. The adābi wa ijtīmā'i style contained in this interpretation has a very important role in uncovering the secret of verses that are connected to the social problems that occur. Therefore, in the interpretation of Al-Munīr at the end of the author of this book, namely Wahbah Al-Zuhailī always includes a style of adabi ijtima'i, so that the verse can be applied directly to overcome various kinds of problems of the people that occur. According to the author, this is like opening a new discourse, especially regarding legal verses that have not been interpreted by many other commentators with an adābi wa ijtīmā'i style.

As evidence of the role of the adābi wa ijtīmā'i style in the interpretation of al-Munīr, one of them can be seen from the interpretation of QS al-Baqarah/2:168 which reads:

يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ كُلُوا مِمَّا فِي الْأَرْضِ حَلَالًا طَيِّبًا وَلَا تَتَّبِعُوا خُطُوَاتِ الشَّيْطَانِ إِنَّهُ لَكُمْ عَدُوٌّ مُبِينٌ

Translation:

O people! Eat of the lawful and good food found on earth, and do not follow the steps of Satan. Indeed, Satan is a real enemy for you.²⁶

This verse contains the meaning that Allah swt. calls on all humans to always eat food that is halal, does not contain subhat, and does not contain other people's rights that have been usurped in that food in a way that is not permitted by the Islamic religion. Likewise, it is forbidden to eat food or property taken by leaders from their followers in an improper way. This verse also prohibits humans from participating in the steps of Satan, who has been his enemy since the time of Prophet Adam (AS). and Satan never directs people to do good.²⁷

This verse seems to contain legal meaning, namely containing orders to eat good and halal food and prohibitions against avoiding food that is not good and contains prohibitions in the rules of Islamic religious law. So that someone who violates these rules will have the consequence of incurring sin, because it includes following Satan's steps according to Islamic law

²⁵Laila Badriah, "Kajian Terhadap Tafsir Rawih Al-Bayan: Tafsir Ayat Al-Ahkam Min Al-Qur'an Muhammad Ali Ash-Shabuni", Syaikhuan: Jurnal Pendidikan dan Pranata Islam, Vol. 8, No. 1, 201, h. 137.

However, Wahbah al-Zuhailī connects the legal essence in this verse with social phenomena that occur with the adābi wa ijtimā'i style. This can be seen at the end of the interpretation, found in the section on life jurisprudence or laws. So the verse feels related to social reality, even though the verse contains more meaning about jurisprudence law.²⁸

The interpretation with the adābi wa ijtimā'i style in this verse can be seen with the explanation that in everyday life, a Muslim must always try to fight against desires and things that are destructive and lead to evil. Apart from that, you must always be wary of people who have the potential to become enemies in social interactions, especially people who have clearly declared hostility towards the person concerned.

This interpretation with the adābi wa ijtimā'i style is applied to most of the verses of the Qur'an in the book of interpretation. So that for each theme in the interpretation, you can always find a chapter section at the end of the interpretation with the name of the Fiqh al-H{ayh au al-Aḥkm chapter which discusses the content of the verse which is connected with the laws of fiqh or with social life in social reality.

Therefore, it can be concluded that the adābi wa ijtimā'i style in al-Munir's interpretation has a quite prominent existence in the interpretation and the silver pattern has a very important position for the completeness of interpretation and understanding of verses amidst the interpretation of verses in the book of tafsir. which has the dominant style of fiqh.

The Role of the Adābi wa Ijtimā'i Tafsir Style in the Tafsir Rawiḥ Al-Bayn

The book of tafsir Rawiḥ al-Bayn is a book of tafsir that has a style of fiqh, but in the process of interpreting the verses of the Koran in this book, it does not leave behind exegesis that are connected with social life, namely with the style of adabi wa ijtima' i. Therefore, in this tafsir book, the adābi wa ijtimā'i style cannot be ignored and has a position to complete the interpretation of the verse so that the understanding of the verse appears to feel more complete and complete.

As an example of the existence of the adābi wa ijtimā'i style in the book, one of which can be seen in the interpretation of QS al-Baqarah/2:219 which reads:

يَسْأَلُونَكَ عَنِ الْخَمْرِ وَالْمَيْمِرِ قُلْ فِيهِمَا إِثْمٌ كَبِيرٌ وَمَنْعٌ لِلنَّاسِ وَإِثْمُهُمَا أَكْبَرُ مِنْ نَفْعِهِمَا وَيَسْأَلُونَكَ مَاذَا يُنْفِقُونَ قُلِ الْعَفْوَ كَذَلِكَ يُبَيِّنُ اللَّهُ لَكُمْ آيَاتِهِ لَعَلَّكُمْ تَتَفَكَّرُونَ

Translation:

They asked you (Muhammad) about alcohol and gambling. Say, "In both there is great sin and some benefit for humans but the sin is greater than the benefit." And they ask you (about) what they should do invest. Say, "Excess of what is necessary". Thus Allah explains His verses to you, so that you think.²⁹

This verse talks about the law prohibiting alcohol and gambling. In this verse it is said that although these two things contain benefits, such as pleasure, inner satisfaction, and financial benefits for the perpetrator of these things, the harm that arises from these two things can cover up the benefits contained in these two things. , so the essence of this verse is the command to abandon these two things.³⁰

In the interpretation of Rawīḥ al-Bayn, the verse is also interpreted by connecting the side of harm to wine drinkers and gamblers which has implications in social life in society with the style of adābi wa ijtimā'i. The interpretation with the adābi wa ijtimā'i style of this verse can be found at the end of the interpretation under the chapter name Hikmah al-Tasyrī'.

The interpretation of this verse with an adābi wa ijtimā'i style can be seen from the explanation that the bad consequences resulting from wine and gambling will have implications for damage to the body, mind and property. As a result of someone drinking wine, it will make that person look like a crazy person in their social interactions. Meanwhile, the bad consequences of gambling activities will give rise to hostility and hatred between people, especially between those who gamble.³¹

Someone who consumes wine and engages in gambling activities will often experience bad things in their daily social interactions. Therefore, the act of consuming wine and engaging in gambling activities must be avoided to avoid causing chaos and disputes that occur between people in their daily social interactions.³²

Exegesis with the adābi wa ijtimā'i style in these tafsir books are mostly found in the Hikmah al-Tasyri' chapter which is always placed at the end of the interpretation. If you look at all parts of the book, all the verses of the Qur'an are tried to be interpreted using the adābi wa ijtimā'i style in that chapter for complete interpretation of the verses.

This shows that the role of the adabi wal ijtima'i style in the book Rawīḥ Al-Bayn when interpreting the verses of the Koran has a very important position. In other words, it can be said that the interpretation of the verses of the Qur'an is incomplete if it does not include the essence of the verse to be connected to everyday life, so that it can be understood by people easily and can be applied in their social interactions.

Conclusion

The existence of the adābi wa ijtimā'i interpretation style in the tafsir al-Munīr and Rawīḥ al-Bayn books which are dominated by the fiqh interpretation style, cannot be avoided anymore. In these two tafsir books, the adābi wa ijtimā'i style has a position as a complement to the interpretation of verses so as to obtain a broader and more complete understanding of a verse.

The adābi wa ijtimā'i style in these two exegesis is considered by the authors of these books to be very important. This can be seen from the existence of a separate chapter that uses this style, even though the verse is basically a verse that has the essence or talks about the laws of jurisprudence, this does not prevent interpretation with the adābi wa ijtimā'i style from being able to be applied in everyday life for the people. Islam. Interpretation with the adābi wa ijtimā'i style, especially when it concerns verses that talk about law, will increasingly show that this type of interpretation can reveal the secrets and
